ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

one of the first systems of free public education in our state was organized in Plainfield. Rich and poor students alike have been served since that time. Since 1848's original class of 167, enrollment has progressed far into the thousands. The years have encouraged quality as well as quantity, however. Today the citizens of Plainfield can proudly claim an educational system which is virtually unsurpassed.

The first class to graduate from the Stillman school, then the seat of secondary education, was in 1870, and consisted of 8 members. This year nearly 400 red and blue clad students will receive diplomas in recognition of four years of hard and productive work.

The widely diversified curricula now available to high school students is a far cry from the meager ones the class of 1870 had to choose from. Educational facilities have changed with the times. Today there is no conceivable field of endeavor for which Plainfield High School does not offer sound basic training.

Our school's achievements have not only been in matters academic. Several trophies from our well filled showcase bear dates of the last century, proof that extra-curricula activities have always been a vital part of our school life.

Yearbooks have also kept pace with and improved with shifting sands of time. The latest effort in this respect is, obviously, our presentation of

In this 1948 issue of the Milestone, we commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Plainfield's system of public education. A century has seen the educational facilities of our city germinate from a minute seed, watered by endless hope and little capital, into the solid, widely diversified institution which trains our youth today. The citizens of Plainfield may well be proud of the fact that their high school is one of the best equipped and highly rated in the state.

This enviable achievement, whose birth we mark this year, is the direct result of untiring effort by many men and women of foresight. We humbly thank them, grateful for their work, of which we now reap the fruit. The entire project, however, was conceived and given its initial impetus by one man. His portrait may be seen, hanging in a place of honor, by all who enter Plainfield High School; he was Dr. Charles H. Stillman.

The difficulties encountered by Dr. Stillman and his associates in organizing such a revolutionary enterprise as free public education in a rather conservative town may better be imagined than described. In praise of their labors we can do no better than point to education in Plainfield today—it speaks well for the men who gave it its firm foundation.

During the years since its genesis, the names of two men have stood out as contributing materially to the institution started by Dr. Stillman. Both were superintendents of the city's schools; both were beloved by faculty and students alike.

The first was Henry Maxon, who guided the schools through their critical period of expansion. It was while he held office that the new high school building replaced the old Stillman School. Several new grammar schools were constructed to accommodate the growing body of young people who sought enlightment. The first public school swimming pool in the state was installed in the new high school under Mr. Maxon.

The second man was one whom most of us students remember and revere, Frederic Cook. Superintendent of Schools until 1944, he saw the extension of the high school building, with the addition of such improvements as the gym and shops. In his memory stands the Cook Memorial Library, a collection of books on American history in which he was interested.

The Class of '48 is honored to be able to commemorate in this yearbook the one hundred years of free public education in Plainfield—truly a "Century of Progress."

TWO IN THE

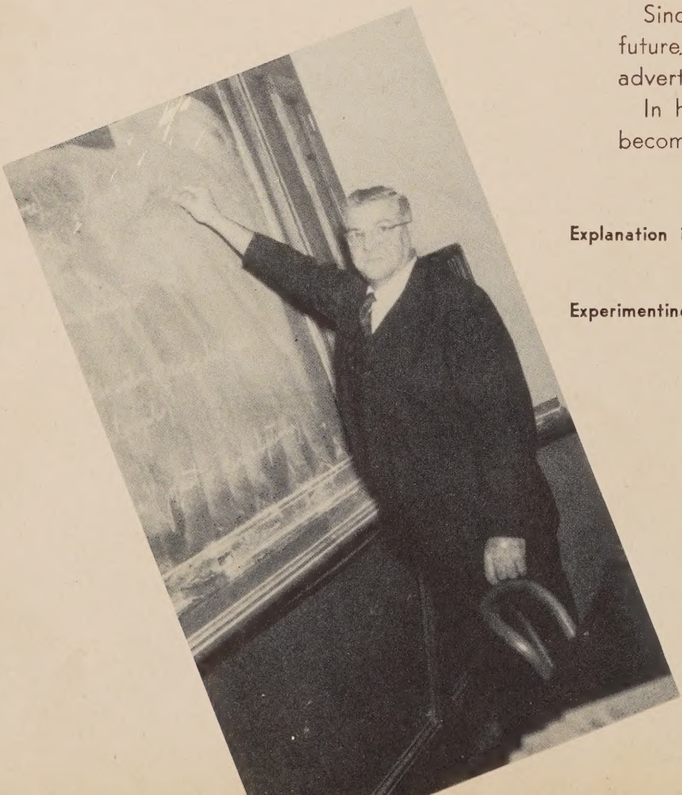
To you, A. HAMILTON OTTO, who wear the smile that has won its place in our hearts; whose friendship, understanding, and inspiration have guided us onward; who are a true friend, aide and teacher; in deepest appreciation and gratitude, we, the class of 1948, sincerely dedicate this centennial Milestone.

Hamilton Otto was born in Easton, Penna., on October 27, 1903. He attended Wilson Borough Schools and Lafayette College. With science as a major, he received his Bachelor of Science Degree in 1927. During his college days, Mr. Otto was active in the band, a virtuoso of the alto horn, and a member of the Chemical Club. You might well hear him talk about Alpha Chi Sigma Fraternity, since he is an honorary member.

On June 14, 1903, Mr. Otto married the former Latonia Thomas and in September of that year, he began teaching in P. H. S.

Since then, Mr. Otto has been busily instructing future chemists, and in his spare time manages the advertising staff of the Entree.

In his eighteen years in Plainfield High, he has become more than a teacher—he is a friend to all.



Explanation in the making.

Experimenting on the theory of rest.

TRADITION

To you, MARIE WHELAN, guardian of a thousand lives; keeper of the room of rest; recorder of the rising mercury; signer of the "homeward pass"; mender of wounds of the flesh and the heart; a friend with sincere interest in us all—we, the class of 1948, returning that interest, most affectionately dedicate this centennial Milestone.

Marie Whelan is a product of our home town. Born in Plainfield, N. J., she attended P. H. S. and, because she had always wanted to be a nurse, entered the Nursing School at Muhlenberg Hospital.

Before returning to P. H. S. as school nurse, Miss Whelan did private and institutional nursing. Since work with young people was what she really wanted, she entered Newark Teachers College in 1938 to acquire credits which were necessary for her to qualify as a school nurse. The program of health education in which she now finds herself she considers most interesting and satisfying.

We will not soon forget Nurse Marie Whelan, who cared for us with gracious efficiency and comforted us with her warm sense of humor.

Brushing up on public health.

So you want to go home!

WE TURN BACK THE PAGES

Not very long ago when the Plainfield school system consisted of only one or two rooms, a principal and a few members of a board of directors were sufficient to manage affairs. As the sizes of the schools increased, it became necessary to enlarge the administrative body. Today the superintendent of schools, the Board of Education, the principals, vice-principals, and the deans of boys and girls work in close harmony to produce a system of better education.

The Superintendent of Schools is in immediate charge of the entire school system as the Board of Education's chief executive officer. He coordinates the work of all administrative departments; executes the policies of the Board or assumes responsibility for seeing that they are executed; and recommends policies for the Board to consider in improving the school system.

The responsibilities of Principal are wide and varied. He is at the helm of his entire school program including instruction, curriculum, and extra-curricula activities. The students of Plainfield High have felt their principal's influence in Student Council, and have accepted his kind advice during student conferences. Our parents, too, meet him at P. T. A. gatherings and Executive Board meetings.

Every senior's record is carefully checked by the vice-principal to see if the student has the required credits for graduation. Not only are the seniors benefited by his help, but all the students and faculty are indebted to his orderly management of fire drills. The long and tedious task of scheduling is also under the supervision of the vice-principal.

The girls of P. H. S. bring problems to the Dean of Girls who always has a friendly solution. She helps manage many social activities and is also a Student Council Advisor.

The Dean of Boys, who is usually thought of as being an oppressor of boyhood, is, on the contrary, one who is ready to give help at all times. Not only has he gained the friendship of many students who have met him in his office, but he is welcomed with hearty greetings at the extra-curricula and community activities in which he takes his part.

ARTHUR F. HOPPER, Superintendent of Schools, is a familiar figure to us all. He and his boyhood stories are welcome in our assemblies. His thoughtful remarks are helpful, and we shall not forget them as years pass on.

Are you bewildered? See Dean GEORGE A. SMITH who always has a smile and some friendly advice for his "poor little lambs who have gone astray".

We regard our Vice-Principal, HENRY HUBBARD, with deep affection and utmost respect which he has won during his many years in P. H. S.

We appreciate Dean LOLA K. HOFF'S making a pleasant year for all by her cooperation and her understanding of our problems. Miss Hoff's keen sense of humor has saved the day many times.

Being sent to the principal is no longer a "fate worse than death," for now as Principal, we have our devoted friend, WALDRO J. KINDIG, who is a sage adviser and a true leader of faculty and students alike.

BREAKING THE TAPE

In September, 1944, we entered Plainfield High School. We were awed by the size of the buildings; the number of students; shy in the presence of the sophisticated seniors; thankful to the "helpful" juniors; annoyed by the arrogance of the sophomores; scared at the mention of the Dean's or Principal's office, but far too wise to fall for that "elevator gag". We elected Jack Halpern, Dick Albers, and Unity Fitzpatrick to lead our class through the pitfalls of our freshman year.

None the worse for wear but far wiser in the ways of P. H. S., we entered our sophomore year. We could now look down on the lowly frosh. We elected as class officers Donald Stewart, Ronald Williams, Ann Pierce, and Jack Halpern.

We started our junior year by electing Ronald Williams, Ted Behr, Margaret Alexanderson, and Pat Moreno as officers. We put our play, "The Fighting Littles", over with a bang! The Junior Dance, "Winter Wonderland", was the first to feature specialty dances.

This year has been full and exciting with the knowledge that graduation day would soon be upon us. "Dear Ruth" was a laughing success. As the year drew to a close, we found ourselves at the unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom. Then, the climax, our excitement on Senior Day and at the Senior Supper, the thrill we felt when the Hall of Fame was announced, and the combination of joy and sadness in our hearts as we gathered together in our caps and gowns.

Then there were little things, too—getting a cut slip or seeing your name in the Entree; the excitement over the new schedule each term; the thrill of seeing your name on the prospective graduate list; the pep rallies; the football games; the class meetings; signing yearbooks and saying goodbye. Then there was that memorable commencement that brought a lump to "his" throat and a tear to "her" eye. All these things we leave, but someday we shall look back upon them. Now we must look ahead to our future which is more important than the past.

A fine fix.

GOAL IN SIGHT

Of course, you must not forget that this is nothing new with us, for in our Freshman year we were doing the same things. Our Frosh Party, which featured Doc Brown and his orchestra, was a tremendous success with beautiful decorations, and delicious refreshments for all.

The next year, when we "lower-upper classmen" were "upper-lower classmen"; or Sophomores; we again put on a terrific dance—this one was called the "Soph Hop." Not only did we rate tops in entertainment, but we also rated high scholastically. This was proved when three students of our class won the Latin Contest held at New York University. Bill Campbell was awarded a medal for being the best second year Latin student in New Jersey; Arthur Stein won a certificate for having an excellent translation paper. These two plus Nancy Gibbons composed a team which received the cup for the highest score.

You recall during the week of October 20-27 this year, gaily colored posters were hung on the bulletin boards in the halls announcing our Junior Dance, which, incidently, was a great success. Dance specialties, refreshments, and games were the main highlights of the evening.

Another supercolossal event at which we were your hosts was our annual Junior Play, and that was, as you surely remember, definitely a smash hit!

May we Juniors now take the opportunity to inform the Seniors, that we are absolutely essential and indispensible people. Perhaps they are not aware of this fact, but they must remember that we were their better half at a dance that could not have taken place without our cooperation. I am, of course, referring to the Junior-Senior Prom, at which we had ourselves an unforgettable and enjoyable evening of fun.

We "49 ers" have also participated in other school activities. Our class makes up one third of Student Council, with some serving as leaders of committees, and we are represented in almost every other club. We have struggled in carrying out our ideas for assemblies. Again this year the Juniors supplied a good many of the "Brains" who made the Principal's List and the Dean's List.

Now as we breathe a sigh of relief that exams are over, and that for two months we can eat our unhurried lunch, we would like the seniors to know that what pleasures and activities we have shared with them were enjoyed by every last one of us.

If in our last year in P. H. S., we do as grand a job as the Seniors are doing, following in their footsteps, we shall feel that we, too, have had a successful four years in P. H. S.

WELL ON THE WAY

September, 1946, ushered into P. H. S. several hundred slightly bewildered Freshmen, who managed to put up a brave front despite the condescending advice of upperclassmen. This class went through hazing; one-way traffic; initiations into Hi-Tri, Leaders, and other clubs; the terrifying "first-year" problems. At election time they took on the serious business of selecting from the many candidates, Thomas Pepe as President; Shelby Craig, Vice-President; Phyllis Scelso, Secretary; and Anne Borow, Treasurer, as their leaders. Their classmate agree that it was a wise choice. One member from each freshman homeroom was added to our governing body, the Student Council.

When the class of 1950 presented its first big social event, the Freshman party, on March 29, they showed the rest of the school that even though they were newcomers, they could still give a really exciting affair! All the entertainment was provided by the more talented members of the class.

The Freshmen's pursuits were not confined to the social field. We find that they were also well represented in scholastic achievements, clubs, and extra curricula activities.

This year the class of '50 are suave, sophisticated Sophomores well versed in the ways of P. H. S. The tremendous projects of their second year were very ably directed by the new officers of the class. Shelby Craig moved up one step to the President's seat; Dottie Gee was chosen as Vice-President; Bill Johnson, Treasurer; and Betsy Clark became the new Secretary. The grand and glorious social event of the second year was—yes, that's it—the Soph Hop! Ballarinas whirled down the halls on posters announcing the dance which was held on February 6. Plainfield High's dancers rivalled the ballarinas when they whirled on the floor of the well-decorated auditorium, dancing to the soft strains of music provided by Austin Palmer's band.

Gaining courage from their elevated status, the Sophomores engaged in more activities. They showed a growing percentage of members in band, orchestra, clubs, and stars-to-be in the sports and theatrical fields. Their class treasury was swelled by the sale of "P" buttons to wear at football games.

The Sophomores are still underclassmen, technically, but we expect some terrific things to happen under their ministrations by the time they are seniors. Looking at the class of 1950, we can say that they are well on their way to bring honor to Plainfield High School.

Watch that birdie!

THE STARTING LINE

Freshman Day 1947 brought many suntanned youngsters back from their summer vacation to begin a new kind of life—life in P. H. S. We frosh felt very significant on that first day as we proudly strolled the halls becoming acquainted with teachers, rooms, and classmates. For some reason, the next day was a bit more trying. The upper classmen all seemed to be going the wrong way and you had a dreadful time trying to get up that "Down" stairway. Then you got lost and couldn't find 280 and wondered how you could make your Latin teacher understand the reason for being late. After all, Latin does not lend itself easily to excuse-making! Not wanting to be late to history, you looked for that rapid transit elevator—ah, yes, "what fools we mortals be!"

Soon the frosh became established in clubs, musical organizations, and sports. They took part in Student Council, Library Council, and assemblies. The neophytes, crawling down the halls on hands and knees, were for a time, a funny and familiar sight indeed.

Remember your crush on that nice senior?

Gee, how you wished you had the nerve to ask him to the Christmas formal or maybe one of the K. D. dances. That's all right, you decided, you would rather go with a freshman anyhow—even if he was a bit shorter than you.

Day after day, you carried home piles of books and devoted the entire evening to your homework assignments.

It was a little hard at first to manage to shovel down your huge lunch in twenty-eight minutes and rush back to a classroom to do the history you forgot to do last night. But soon you became entirely accustomed to the ways of P. H. S. and now, after a brief vacation, you will return a bit more sophisticated, but not so suave that you won't tease next year's crop of frosh—no, siree! Although one wonderful year has passed, there are yet three to go in which you will have ample time to work for, honor, and love good 'ole P. H. S.

You go first

If the Student Council were measured in value, we would find it to be P. H. S.'s most valuable possession. By means of this organization, everyone from the meek freshman to the esteemed senior is given a chance to voice his complaints and to help shape the future of his school.

The group, advised by Mr. Waldro J. Kindig, Mr. George Smith, Miss Lola Hoff, Mr. Warren H. Held, and Miss Mary J. Basehore, meets every Tuesday in the library where the taps of Ronald Williams's presidential gavel brings about order. The other officers—Joan O'Keeffe, secretary; Charles Cary, vice-president; and Joy Roberts, treasurer—sit by waiting their turns according to parliamentary procedure.

The accomplishments of the Student Council are numerous and varied. When you wore out your lungs at the football rallies, were you aware of the fact that because of the capable Council, the rally was held? When you saw movies, played ping pong, swam, and danced at the Fall Mixer all for one S. A. T. ticket, did you realize that the active Council had sponsored the affair?

Ten members from P. H. S. attended the Princeton Convention where each member visited two panel discussions in which different phases of Student Council were discussed. Three of our students were speakers on panels.

When the children in Europe asked for books, the Council started a Treasure Chest campaign, wherein every homeroom contributed a book. By supporting a school in France, the Student Council is spreading its aims of democracy and is helping war-torn Europe recover in the field of education.

Distributed every second Friday of the school year, the Entree is the medium for acquainting readers with the school and each other. Under the direction of Mr. Carl Bomberger, the editorial staff, consisting of Joe Stubits, Editor-in-chief; Stephen Fox, News Editor; Jayne Simonson, Feature Editor; Helen Schwartz, Literary Editor; Bert Katz, Sports Editor; Nancy Topping, Exchange Editor; and Phyllis Gordon, Business Manager, compose the pages of the publication with stories written by the reporters and contributors. Mrs. Alice Millican advises the circulation staff and Mr. A. H. Otto advises the business staff.

THAN THE SWORD

The 1948 Milestone featuring One Hundred Years of Education in Plainfield rolled off the presses in June to the cheers of sixty Milestone staff writers, artists, and salesmen who worked long and hard on their favorite project. They proudly present a new Milestone in memory of a joyous and record-making school year.

Under the direction of editor Tama Schenk, the staff received assignments, tracked down facts, interviewed famous figures in school history, and met fast-approaching deadlines. They set up pages, identified pictures, re-wrote dummies and took pictures. On February 1, in the language of the editorial world, they "put their baby to bed" and relaxed to await its first public appearance in ink and gloss and handsome leather.

On the Business Staff, dollar-minded salesmen solicited ads, pressed one and all for subscriptions, and sold copies of popular school pictures to make the books come out even.

In days of old

No, those people you see rushing to school about 7:45 A. M. aren't sleepwalkers, they are members of the P. H. S. choral groups getting in an early morning rehearsal. More than 200 students participate in the A Capella Choir, Male Chorus, Boys Ensemble, and Mixed Choir under the able direction of Mrs. Marie Hoffman.

Since its organization in 1939 the A Capella Choir has proved immensely popular. The girls have done a great deal of singing, not only at school functions, but for the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and various church groups throughout the city. Last year the girls entertained the soldiers at Camp Kilmer.

The Male Chorus was organized several years ago for boys who like to sing together. They meet once a week to blend their voices in close harmony. The boys have entertained the school and have sung for organizations outside the school.

The Boys Ensemble is a small group of about 20 boys who enjoy barber shop harmony. They have entertained the school many times at special assemblies and have been a great success singing for clubs.

Another very popular group is the Mixed Choir of 60 voices, first formed two years ago by Mrs. Hoffman. This year the choir presented excerpts from Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "The Pirates of Penzance" which proved very successful. They also sang for the annual Christmas program.

For all the school choral groups the climax of the year's work is the Choral Festival. Presented in the Spring, it has become a yearly tradition in Plainfield. To present such a program takes much time and work, but it is wonderful training in cooperation as well as in music and lots of fun.

The P. H. S. Orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Clarence Andrews. This busy group meets every day fifth period to rehearse. Besides its yearly concert, the orchestra also entertains at the Junior and Senior plays.

WITH THE TUNES

The Cardinal song! The Cardinal song! The crowds cheer, the band plays, and a good time is had by all. The spirit of the game is heightened by the music and the cheers which liven both victory and defeat. Mr. Andrews and the band keep up the fun by their playing and marching, while the cheerleaders take a needed rest. The girl cheerleaders have been cheering through the years, but the boys were initiated to the squad last year. They are under the direction of Miss Arinsberg.

The band's program, in addition to accompanying the football team, includes several concerts and assembly programs which attract both students, musicians, and townspeople.

Aeschylus! Shakespeare! O'Neil!
They represent the milestones in the history of the theater. The Senior Dramatic Club, sponsored by Miss Virginia Mixer, comes in contact with these and many other famous writers in its study of drama. This year Peggy Groff was elected president of the club which moves to the tune of curtain time. Peggy is assisted by Ted Behr, who is vice-president, and Janet Meyer, who holds the office of secretary. The group reads and acts plays; learns the theater inside and out; and familiarizes itself with make-up, lights, publicity and scenery.

Conover and Power Take Note!

OLD INSTITUTION

"Now, Mary, this is called a stage. Look at it, study it, and remember it. You'll be seeing a great deal of it in the next four years"—thus the lowly Freshman is introduced to the field of drama.

Make-up is seen as a new and exciting part of theatrical presentations, as are the duties of the stage crew, designers, electricians, actors, and writers.

The group centers its activities around its annual production of the Freshman Play. Their trials and tribulations as amateurs are endured by Mr. D. McCandless and Miss J. Durell, their advisors.

Up-stage, down-stage, and all around the stage; that's the feeling of the under class thespians. They have outranked the Freshman, and they are on top of the world—until they face the new experiences of the more advanced Sophomore Dramatic Club. The Sophomores really have fun acting and learning under the direction of Miss Virginia Mixer. They study the inner secrets of good theater productions and characterizations, and they enjoy trying to improve their own presentations. Also on the agenda are discussions for and against current Broadway dramatic productions.

All types of gymnastic skills are taught to the Apparatus Club by Miss Marion Newson during Monday Assembly periods. The girls become skilled in tumbling, rope work, and in using the various pieces of apparatus found in the gym. Last year in the Physical Education Assembly, the club gave a demonstration of human pyramid building and tumbling. Perfection in apparatus work is obtained only by constant practice.

Mrs. Ruth King held badminton classes on Monday and Wednesday afternoons in the Girls' Annex. Badminton may be played in singles or doubles as tennis is, but the racquets are different and a bird is used instead of a ball. Badminton is a good sport for the development of teamwork when played in doubles. Last year Wanslee Davis and Ruth Pederson, then Seniors, won the championship awards.

House lights down! Borders up! Presenting: The Last Days of Pompeii, produced through the cooperation of the stage crew and projection squad, directed by Mr. Nelson and Mr. Dunavan respectively.

"The boys behind the scenes," that's what these boys are called. No production could be a success without them, yet they never receive any credit for a successful assembly or movie. They make a study of projectors, lights, and other necessities for a smooth presentation.

Our thanks to you, boys!

Running through the halls with library slips, planning the show case exhibits, and acting as junior librarians are the duties of the members of the Library Council. Under the direction of Miss Josephine Miller and Miss Catherine Moraller, the members spend their free periods in the library serving the school by performing such services as checking in books and helping the students find their materials. This year the forty members are presided over by Dolly Taynor.

Advancement from Group III to Group IV competition with its tougher opponents was not a barrier capable of preventing Coach Bruguiere's tracksters from annexing the State Track Crown for the fourth consecutive year, thus extending their undefeated record in dual meets (excluding West Point) to four years. The cinder men garnered the Union Country Track and Relay Championships, repeating in the Central Jersey meets. The Cards emerged victors from the Newark Board of Education Meet. They placed third in the Morris Invitational Meet, while they dropped the West Point Contest, a close one which saw Booker Anderson cop three first places.

While compiling this impressive record, the hustling trackmen posted several new marks. Evans, Dexter, Cary, and Anderson set a 480 yard relay record at the Central Jersey Meet, only to see it smashed the next week by Ferris, Audet, Blackwood, and Deady at the Union County run. In the county meet, Booker Anderson, Joe Deady, and Charles Cary topped the previous highs for the 220 yard low hurdles, half mile, and 120 yard high hurdles respectively.

Yes, sir, football has changed since Plainfield High first engaged in the game. Play was very hard on the participants until revision of the rules; however, even after the changes, gridiron meetings remained tough, rough-and-tumble affairs. Because of the frequency and severity of the injuries received in the contest, the parents of the members of the team protested; therefore, in the 1906 season, the team's activities were suspended after three games had been played.

Before the advent of standardized uniforms, a medley of outfits appeared on the playing field. If the reader were to closely examine the garb of the team of 1905, he could discover some unusual objects worn in the frays of that year and of that period; for instance, the player at the extreme left of the rear row is wearing for shoulder pads nothing more nor less than a pair of boxing gloves! Trousers were fashioned from Mother's old quilts, and "regulation" shoes were every day footwear with cut up bits of rubber nailed on for cleats. Stuffed leather bags were used for shoulder protection, and nose guards seemed to be popular. "Standard" equipment was "cleated" shoes, shin guards, padded trousers, and turtle neck sweaters; anything else could be added at the player's discretion.

RULES HAVE CHANGED

Early in the century Plainfield was always represented by a potent gridiron team. Many scoreless ties were played, and there were many contests which ended with lop-sided scores favoring the forerunners of the present Cardinals. When these early birds lost, it was rarely by more than one touchdown. Our present arch rivals, Westfield and North Plainfield, were easily defeated by Plainfield squads, and whenever they achieved a victory, it was a definite upset. Since 1930 Westfield has narrowed Plainfield's wide victory margin. They now trail eighteen games to sixteen besides two ties. North Plainfield has won only four games of the total of thirty-four with five games ending in ties.

A GAME

Coach Earl Kinney's Freshman had an on-and-off record for the 1947 season winning two contests while dropping three and tying one. It was the fine all around work of Captain Tom Campbell and the running of Joe Pope and Roy Knight which gathered 42 points to the opponents' 38 in six contests. Two of the three games lost were by one touchdown.

The yearlings looked splendid in their opener against Union's Jayvees, but the visitors were too big for the Cards as they over-powered the homesters for the majority of the games. Improving as they went along, the Freshman tied Cranford, outpointed Westfield, lost to Bound Brook and Rahway, but defeated Somerville in the final contest.

The Varsity Football squad, under the able supervision of Coach Abe Smith, spent the entire gridiron season in the grip of a slump brought on by their initial contest of the season. The teams which had won twenty-one games in the preceding three years were thoroughly disgraced by a powerful South River eleven which took the opener by a 65-0 score.

The Cardinals bounced back in their second contest, battling the Columbia Cougars to a 13-13 tie. A week following the Columbia affair, the Smithmen evened up their season's average by eking out a 25-20 win over a hustling Bound Brook combine. This contest was the only one of the recent campaigns in which the Cards emerged victorious.

Plainfield	0	South River	65
Plainfield	13	Columbia	13
Plainfield	25	Bound Brook	20
Plainfield	6	Perth Amboy	12
Plainfield	7	Somerville	13
Plainfield	7	Thomas Jefferson	33
Plainfield	7	North Plainfield	12
Plainfield	0	Rahway	33
Plainfield	12	Westfield	32

Coach Art Smith's Jayvees downed the Thomas Jefferson eleven in the final contest of the year to finish the 1947 campaign undefeated and untied. In the eight games played, the Cards scored 274 points to the visitors' 19. In the first three games of the season, New Brunswick's Panthers fell by a 33-0 margin, Columbia's Cougars were routed 56-0, and Bound Brook was at the short end of a 25-0 score. The first score against Plainfield came during the 32-7 Perth Amboy contest when their fullback crashed over from the one yard stripe.

Somerville's Pioneers fell next to the mighty Cards, 39-0. In the Union affair, with the score tied at 12-12 and one minute left to play, Plainfield scored the winning tally. North Plainfield's Canucks dropped their game to the Cards, 33-0.

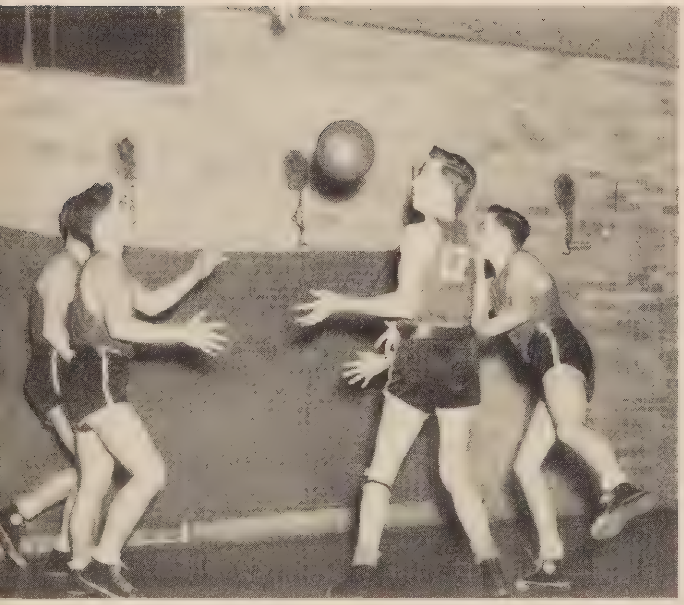
BASKETBALL



Get that ball!

Despite the fact that their game was either red hot or ice-cold all season, our courtsters, under the supervision of Mr. Bill Brann, racked up twelve wins and nine losses.

Sparked by seniors John Arthur, Don Kennedy, and Bob Teitsworth, and juniors Jim Ridgeway and Bill Harkness, the Brannmen were twice victorious over Asbury Park, Cranford, Dunellen, and Bound Brook. Regional, Westfield, Linden, and Rahway gave way once.

In seasonal play, only N.P.H.S. stopped the Cards twice. Columbia, Westfield, Linden, Regional, Hillside, Rahway, and Roselle Park each stopped the team once. Roselle Park also downed the Cards, 41-34, in the County Tourney.

Other senior boys that have put P. H. S. basketballs through the hoop for the last time are Julie Ciotta, Walt Gabruk and Al Krajewski.

FOR THRILLS

Coach Bill Brann's Junior Varsity, whose starting lineup consisted of Frank Hocko, Herb Brandt, Bill Johnson, Tom Campbell, and Benton Neill, was able to win only seven games, but much promise was shown. Most of the games were close; only Asbury Park was able to run off with both games. The majority of the players will return for more Jayvee seasoning and will, no doubt, run up an impressive record.

Under the able supervision of Mr. Harold Bruguiere, the Cross Country team compiled a record of four wins and two defeats besides capturing third place in the State Meet and, for the second straight year, the county crown. Their losses, both by narrow margins, were meted out by Kearny and Cranford, the latter meet finding the Cards without two of their aces. Captain Al Pittis, aided by Robert Audet, James Callahan, Roland McDermott, Tim Kett, Ed Baxter, Don Kennedy, Charles Grimes, Arthur Skove, and Dickson Pratt led the squad.

We dood it!

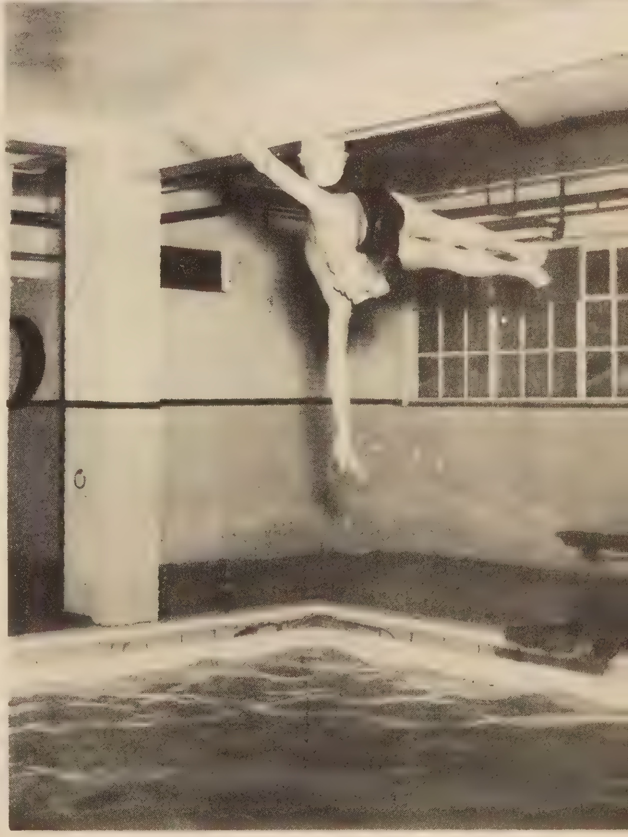
Another undefeated season—the best yet—has just gone into the record books. Senior mermen like Garry Hoyt, Ted Behr, Jack Logan, Bob Prigge and Chuck Small made it possible to credit Coach Vic Liske with another brilliant year. The count—14 wins; 0 losses; 0 ties; 2nd in the State Meet, and one broken school record.

Two wins each over Westfield, West Orange, Columbia, Lincoln, Bayonne, and Irvington, and single wins over Snyder and Fairlawn completed the list of P. H. S. victories!

Ted Behr, Garry Hoyt, Bill Marsh, and Tim Kett broke the school record of 1:22:0 in the 160 freestyle relay and set a new time of 1:21:9.

Bob Prigge captured second honors in the State Meet 100-yard breaststroke. Garry Hoyt took 3rd in the 50-yard freestyle diving, and the freestyle relay squad barely lost to Trenton, the State champs, by .1 of a second. The medley relay team—Ted Behr, Bob Prigge and Irv Bittle tied for 4th with Westfield.



Look out, Jack, it's wet!

WE WIELD RACQUET OR

1947 saw Coach Sette's P. H. S. tennis team take nine matches and sustain one defeat. New Brunswick and Cranford each succumbed twice by 5-0 scores, and Perth Amboy dropped two, 4-1 and 3-2. The netmen set back Morristown 5-0, Rahway 4-1, and were leading 2-0 when rain cancelled the North Plainfield contest. The Cards split 3-2 decisions with Westfield, winning the second match.

Lettermen were John Enander, captain, winner of the Alumni Cup Tourney, the Outstanding Senior Player Award, and the Union County Singles Championship; Don Martino, Charles Lott, Edward Rosenzweig, Gerry Shaw, Pete Shaw, Bob Teitsworth, and Phil Zerega. Bob Teitsworth and Charles Lott were victors in the Union County Doubles Tournament.

A fall tennis program, an innovation, appeared in 1947. It consisted of class tournaments, practise matches, and competition for varsity positions.

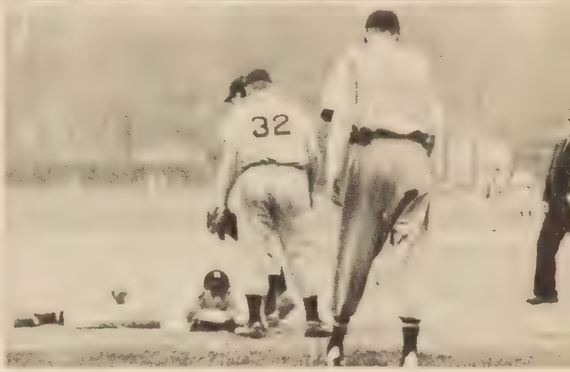
BAT WITH EQUAL SKILL



A record of thirteen wins and six losses, a .684 percentage; New Jersey's ace pitcher and leading batsman; three All-Staters, Johnny Arthur, Don McNally, and Johnny Murphy—that sums up the Cardinals' achievements in 1947.

With pitchers like Jack Murphy, seven game winner who finished the season without a loss; Lou Harding, Bruce Anderson, Ronnie Williams, and Al Monaci hurling the ball to catcher Al Tumulo, little could have beaten Coach Liddy's wards. When enemy bats met the ball squarely, Johnny Arthur, Jeff Fleischmann, and Charley Hugel starred in hauling down drives hit to the outfield, while Don McNally, "Booboo" Santy, Herb Heiney, and Al Monaci capably played the infield.

When Plainfield was not in the field, their bats made merry. Led by Johnny Arthur, whose .386 average topped everyone in the state, the Cards scored 118 times while the opposition could collect only 62 runs.

With sturdy bows and speedy arrows, the Plainfield High School girls perfect their skill in archery under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth King. In the Spring and Fall on Wednesday afternoons, weather permitting, the Randolph Road Field is the meeting place for our modern Dianas. Last year the tournament was won by the Sophomores, ably led by Harriet Mundy, captain; Janet Schott was the individual champion of all four classes.

Let 'er fly!

Field Hockey is held every Tuesday and Thursday at the Plainfield High School athletic field under the supervision of Miss Marion Newson. Although there are only a few girls from each class who participate, we still have some fast, exciting games. On Saturday, October 25, 1947, six girls went to New Brunswick to represent Plainfield in the All-School Play Day.

With the winter program, comes basketball, which causes the gym to shake with the shrieks and pounding feet of girls, completely absorbed in their game. The girls play every Tuesday and Thursday after school in the large gym. Miss Marion Snyder is the advisor, but the girls do their own officiating until the class tournaments. The '47 Seniors copped the crown last year in a series of three games.

¶ Serving the people and the industries of Plainfield with a complete Building Service.

¶ During the half century we have completed in this business it has been our pleasure to have helped many hundreds of couples to plan, build and finance their homes.

¶ When, in the years to come, you go on to other educational or business activities and finally get married and settle down and begin to think of a home of your own, think also of us and of the help we can give you in this very important transaction—for many of you it will be the MOST IMPORTANT of your life.

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

The officers and members of The Plainfield High School Alumni Association, Inc., congratulate you upon completion of your high school studies and extend sincere wishes for your every success in the future.

You are aware of at least two of the endeavors of the Alumni Association, namely, affording Scholarships each year and sponsoring the Vocational Guidance Program in the high school. There is also a social side for just good fun and fellowship and the roster of the Association includes members from the graduating class of 1947 down the line to classes of the 1800's.

As a graduate, you are cordially invited to join the Alumni Association and become an active member. Full particulars can be obtained from Mrs. John Lopresti, Chairman of the Membership Committee, 931 West Eighth Street, Plainfield.
